

MURDERER USED SURGEON'S KNIFE

Police Confident Mrs. Lewis' Slayer Was a Woman. Motive Jealousy.

SUSPECTS BEING WATCHED

Husband of Victim Declares He Knows Who Committed Crime.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 12.—The police today are convinced that Mrs. Morris K. Lewis, whose body was found Monday in a closet in the apartment house at 2103 North Eleventh street, was stabbed to death with a lance in the hands of a woman and that jealousy was the motive.

A woman, whom the police suspect, was at one time employed in a place where surgical instruments are made. This woman today is being closely watched. The police believe the woman was aided by another woman or a man.

A man wearing a steel gray suit, answering the description of the clothes declared to have been stolen from the house where the murder was committed, is being hunted by the police in every part of the city. The police have had his description for the last two days.

The police expect to arrest this man any minute. In an interview today, Mr. Lewis asserted he had good grounds for suspecting two persons, a woman and a man, of knowing how his wife was foully slain.

"I have promised the police not to talk," he said, "but I would like to tell all I know about the murder of my wife. I believe that my suspicions regarding the identity of her murderer are correct, and if the police do not act soon I shall refuse to remain silent."

Jealousy as a Motive.

Of the many motives for a murder only one seems to have a direct bearing on this case. According to Coroner Jermon and his physicians, there was absolutely no evidence of criminal assault. The fact that money was left exposed on a table in the room where the murder was committed and nothing of value touched in the house puts the damper on the robbery theory. Maurice K. Lewis, husband of the murdered woman, is positive that neither he nor his wife had an enemy in the world who would take such means to avenge any fancied wrong. His statement is borne out by reports from Allegheny concerning the home life of Mrs. Lewis before her marriage. The police have run out all these theories and declare that the jealousy of a woman was alone responsible for the crime.

Police Guarding Miss Kelly.
Miss Kelly and Mrs. Robinson, her mother, are under police guard at the house where the body was found. Today Miss Kelly will be taken over the course she says she followed the day of the murder, when she declares she was shopping and out in West Philadelphia. The body was seen by the first patrolman to reach the house at 5:15 o'clock. It was then limp. Doctors say bodies become rigid in half an hour, or three-quarters at the outside.

Somers Taken on Test Trip.
Harry Somers, the star boarder in the house where Mrs. Lewis was killed, is still held at the City Hall. He was taken over the run by street car from the store, where he worked, to the house at 2103 North Eleventh street yesterday, and made the trip in fifty-five minutes. The police argue from this that he could not have gone home in the noon hour. But he is still detained. As yet the police have not turned loose the negro, Riff, although they say they have no proof against him.

Suspect Quickly Freed.
Warnings were sent out Tuesday night late for the arrest of a white man in "state-colored" clothes, possibly with blood spots. Holmes Agnew was arrested under this description in Atlantic City, but released as soon as the Philadelphia detectives saw him. This description is based upon the robbery theory, which has not yet been discarded, although the missing wedding ring has been found. Somers says he had a "steel colored" suit, which was stolen.

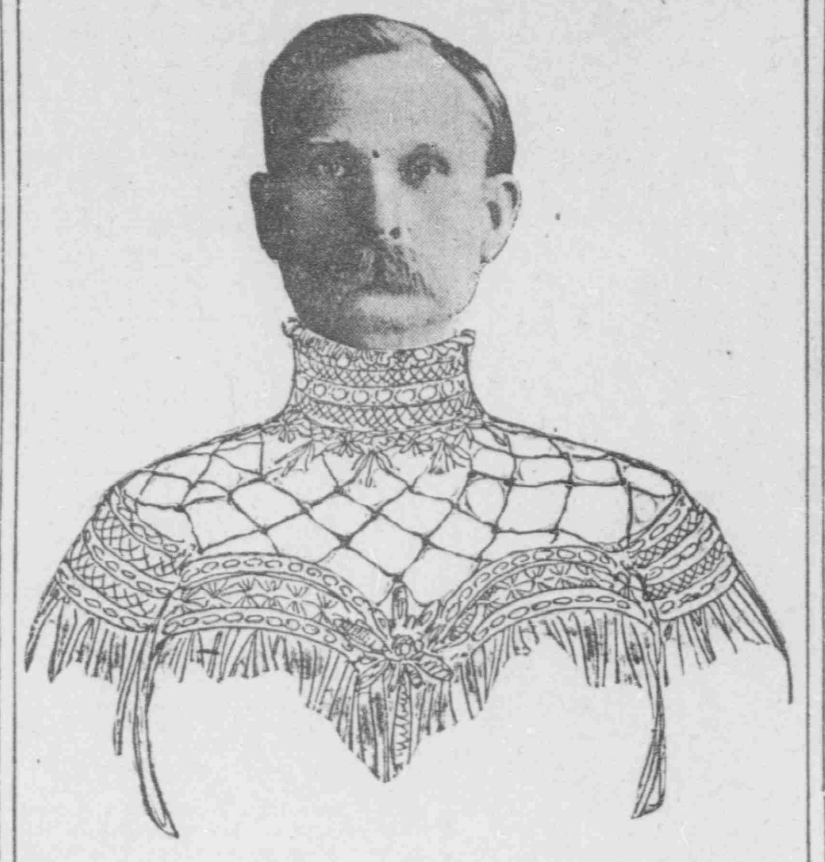

Two locks broken on doors in Miss Kelly's house may have been smashed by the first policeman to get there. This is being investigated. John F. Bruce, of the Bullitt building, and James Peacock, of 2240 Colorado street, say that they saw a man coming out of the alley back of Miss Kelly's house at 3:45 o'clock the afternoon of the murder. But the back gate of Miss Kelly's place was locked, and has always been locked, and to have escaped that way the murderer must have climbed over the fence. Mrs. Harry Scheinfeld next door to the house, was in her yard with the washing all the afternoon and saw no one.

LARGE CRANBERRY CROP IS PROMISED IN JERSEY

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Sept. 12.—In many sections of the county favorable reports are being heard as to the condition of the cranberry crop that is now being harvested. Especially is this true at Taunton, near Medford, where it is expected that the crop will be immense. Recent reports that half the berries at that place had been destroyed by scold were incorrect, the picking showing that very little damage has been done. Charles Hewitt, manager of many of the bogs at Taunton and who has been connected with them for forty-two years, states that he does not remember a time when the picking was better. Around Medford the outlook is very promising, and many of the growers will harvest a bigger crop than they expected.

Peek-a-Boo Waist Opposition May Cost Congressman Seat

CONGRESSMAN NATHAN HALE, Of Tennessee, Author of Tirade Against Peek-a-Boo Waists, Showing How He Would Look in One of Them.

Tennessee Women Out to Defeat Representative Nathan Hale.

Because he has dared to suggest what is proper for a woman to wear and has even gone so far as to place the peek-a-boo waist under the ban, Congressman Nathan Hale of Tennessee is in a fair way to lose his seat in Congress. Alarmed at the possibility of a national law against the wearing of this popular waist the women of his State have risen up and will take the field against him at the coming election. Nor will they be satisfied with using

INSURANCE BUREAU ASKS SALARY RAISE

Substantial increases in the salaries of his four assistants, as well as in his own, are asked by Thomas E. Drake, Superintendent of Insurance, in his estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, which he submitted to the District Commissioners today. Mr. Drake requests that the Commissioners recommend to Congress that his salary be increased from $3,000 a year to $3,500, and that Daniel Curry, examiner, be raised from $1,500 to $2,000; George W. Ingham, statistician, from $1,500 to $2,000; William S. Hall, clerk, from $1,000 to $1,500; J. H. Oehmann, stenographer, from $800 to $1,000 a year.

LADY LION TAMER TORN BEFORE ASSISTANCE CAME

STUFFOLK, Va., Sept. 12.—Leah Almee, known as "the lady lion tamer," was attacked by a lion with which she was performing and before the beast could be shot he had torn her arms and back in several places.

There is real pleasure in chewing the best tobacco grown where the best tobacco grows—in the famous Piedmont country

CHEW WHAT YOU KNOW ABOUT

Only choice selections of this well matured and thoroughly cured tobacco is used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS and other of the Reynolds' brands, as shown by the Internal Revenue statistics for a fiscal year, made the wonderful growth of six and one-quarter million pounds, or a net gain of one-third of the entire increased consumption of chewing and smoking tobaccos in the United States.

Made from thoroughly cured leaf grown in the Piedmont Tobacco belt

Has less sweetening than imitations

Evidently, chewers cannot resist the flavor and they cheer SCHNAPPS because SCHNAPPS cheers them more than any other chewing tobacco and every man that chews SCHNAPPS passes the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers—until the fact is now established that there are many more chewers and pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population, in those States where SCHNAPPS tobacco was first sold than there are in the States where SCHNAPPS has not yet been offered to the trade.

SCHNAPPS is like a cup of fine Java coffee, sweetened just enough to bring out its natural, stimulating qualities. SCHNAPPS pleases all classes of chewers; the rich, because they do not find a chew that really pleases them better at any price; the poor, because it is more economical than the larger 10c. or 15c. plugs and they get their money's worth of the real snappy, stimulating flavor so appreciated by tobacco lovers. All imitations contain much more sweetening than SCHNAPPS. They are made that way to hide poor tobacco improperly cured.

For the man who chews tobacco for tobacco's sake, there is no chew like SCHNAPPS.

Sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. cuts. Strictly 10c. and 15c. plugs.

MAN BURIED ALIVE RETURNS TO LIFE

Kansas City Man Lay in Tomb Over Four Months.

DEVOTION OF HIS FIANCEE

Recovers Health and Marries Girl Whose Insistence Caused Reopening of Vault.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 12.—After being buried alive in the family vault at Kansas City from January 3 to the middle of May, Frederick J. Harvey, one of the wealthiest men in Kansas, came back to life on Tuesday of last week and married his Denver sweetheart, Miss Lily Godfrey, who was instrumental in restoring him to life.

Mr. Harvey is the son of Bernard Harvey and grandson of the deceased Frederick Harvey, the millionaire owners of all the eating houses on the Santa Fe line.

Still Call it Death

At the time of Mr. Harvey's death, as the family still term, his entombment, he had contracted a severe cold which developed into pneumonia and physicians pronounced him dead from poisoned gas arising from the lungs.

Although all animation had ceased, his fiancée, Miss Godfrey, would have it that he was not dead.

For four months Mr. Harvey lay in the vault of his dead ancestors until Miss Godfrey, crazed by the feeling which grew upon her that her beloved was dead, returned to Kansas City and begged especially with the family to accompany her to the vault.

Mother Love Prevailed

The mother eagerly accompanied her to the vault for the first time since the burial.

The casket was opened. In the coffin was Mr. Harvey just as he was on the day of the burial. The lips and finger nails were still pink, the body was still limber and there was not a sign of decay.

The body was removed and doctors summoned with the result that Harvey was slowly brought back to life.

CURE FOR WOMEN WHO QUIT CARS BACKWARD

Inventor Has Shield for Handles Which Will End the Habit.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 12.—Just as soon as the invention of a Columbus man works out in practice, women will no longer be twitted about stepping backward from moving street cars. W. H. Pontius, chief clerk of the United States pension agency in this city, has invented a shield for street car handles to prevent persons from alighting backward or jumping onto moving cars. The shield is being tested on car 515 of the Oak street line.

Careful observers verify the statement that the fair contingent does, as a rule, alight the wrong way, and those trying to do so on car 515 have, upon observing the shield handle, turned when getting off and taken hold of the handle in front of them.

Men who have started to board the car with the shields while it has been in motion have desisted because of the risk involved in grabbing a handle with a shield flush with it and only two and one-half inches from it. Interviews with many different persons show a unanimity on the part of the public for the adoption of the new accident preventer.

DEATH IN DIRTY WATER.

Drinking Water in September Apt to Be Impure.

Many People Use Pe-ru-na to Prevent Ill Results.

A Polluted Reservoir.

Mr. S. A. Doolittle, 253 East 2nd street, Corning, N. Y., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Pe-ru-na, as a tonic and cathartic cure in whatever form, or wherever located. 'I had a great deal of trouble with my bowels and Pe-ru-na cured me. My son was very low with catarrh of the stomach and after doctoring for seven weeks he was worse than when we began. The doctor did not seem to understand his case. 'He commenced using Pe-ru-na, which helped him right along and he was soon at work again. 'I have recommended Pe-ru-na to several of my friends, who have been afflicted and they have been cured.'"

DURING the month of September the drinking water, especially of cities, is apt to be polluted. To supply water to a large number of people, rivers and lakes must necessarily be drawn upon.

These places become more or less stagnant during September. Hence the water is impure. The result is a prevalence of Typhoid fever and bowel diseases.

The natural and surest remedy is to change from polluted to pure drinking water. This cannot always be done, however. Many people are wholly dependent upon such drinking water as the city may furnish.

Their systems are therefore contaminated with disease germs. Some of the people so contaminated fall easy prey to disease. Such people are those who happen to be in a weakened condition, or who are suffering from slight catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes of the bowels. Therefore it follows that in cases where the use of contaminated water is unavoidable, the next best thing is to put the system in such a condition as to resist the action of disease germs.

A multitude of people have come to rely upon Pe-ru-na to do this very thing. Pe-ru-na produces clean, healthy mucous membranes. These protect the internal organs from the encroachments of disease.

Pe-ru-na produces a regular, vigorous circulation of the blood. This gives vitality to withstand the depressing influences of September weather.

In this way the system is fortified against the inevitable season of dry weather, low reservoirs, and stagnant water.

Mr. Silas Vigil, Berthoud, Col., writes: "My boy (Elin), 13 months old, was sick with inflammation of the bowels for over a month. 'I tried a good many medicines, but he seemed to go from bad to worse, until I lost nearly all hope of his recovery. 'At that critical moment I wrote to you about his case. I followed your special treatment to the letter, and it acted wonderfully and quickly. 'In three days we had the pleasure of seeing him smile for the first time in a month. Pe-ru-na is our favorite medicine now.'"
